

PRETIRE

BRINGING BACK EXPERIENCE

PRETIRE IS BRINGING BACK EXPERIENCE

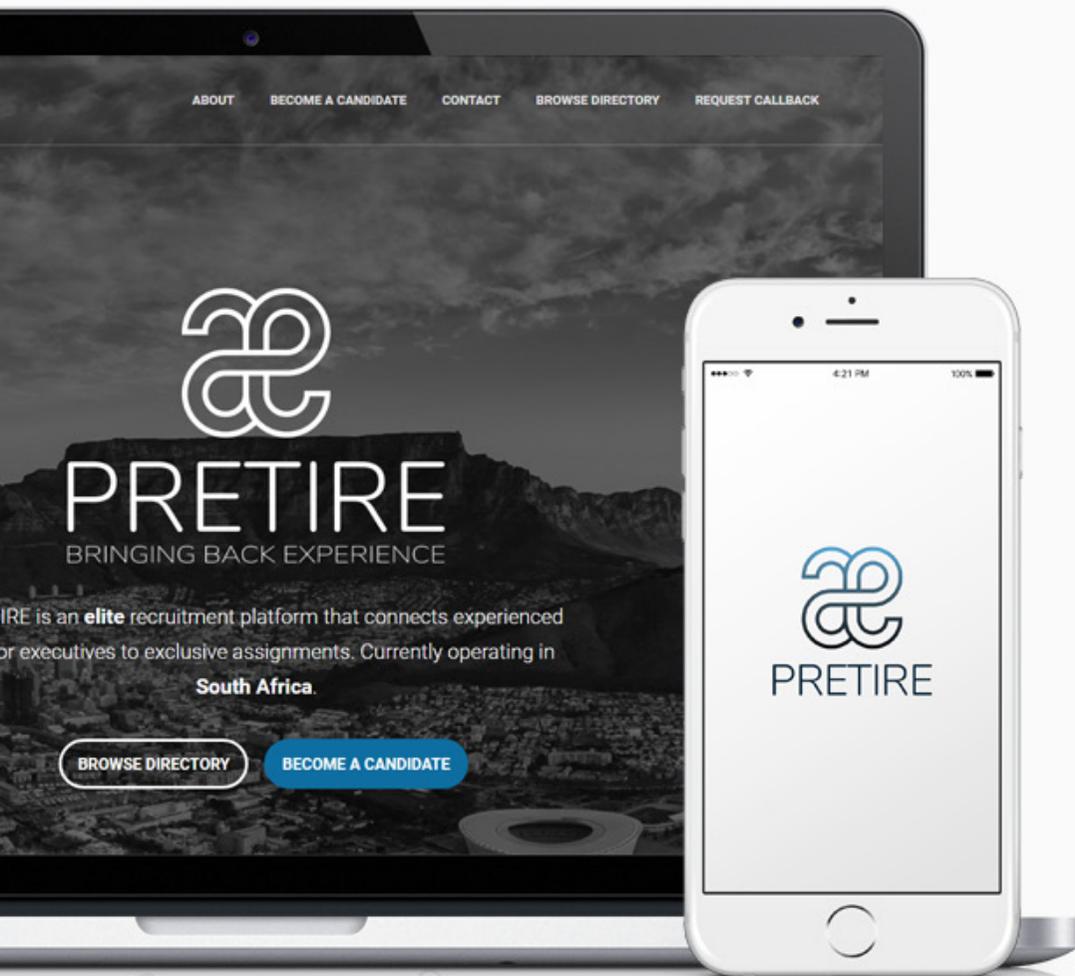

'Pretirement' is a rising, global trend that is being fuelled by longer lifespans, shortages of skills and a demand for contract-type, flexible work.

This gradual transition into complete retirement presents an opportunity for pretirees to offer their experience and skills on an ad-hoc basis, rather than sinking into full-time retirement.

PRETIRE brings the experience back to the workplace.

PRETIRE candidates are semi-retired, highly-accomplished experts with senior management experience and proven track records. Each pretiree is carefully vetted before being listed on the platform.

PRETIRE clients are organisations that seek senior executives to fill roles or complete projects demanding world-class expertise and experience. Clients may include large corporates, small to medium businesses or state-owned enterprises.
